

UNDERGRADUATE INTERNSHIPS AND CAREER EXPLORATION

Overview

Many departments and curricula offer internship credit and career exploration courses. Students who are interested in earning academic credit for an internship experience should plan ahead by checking with the relevant department/school about available opportunities, deadlines, and the academic requirements for holding an internship.

Listed below are the departments and schools that offer internship credit and career exploration courses.

Undergraduate Curricula

If you have been offered an internship and your company is requiring you to earn credit to participate in the internship, you may be eligible for SPCL 493. Note that SPCL 493 is a one-credit, pass/fail course that does not count toward any graduation requirements. For instructions on submitting a SPCL 493 application, which must be done before beginning the internship, please see the SPCL 493 application form (<https://curricula.unc.edu/students/internship-spcl-493/>).
