The N.C. Fellows Program is a three-year cohort-based leadership and self-awareness program that has been present on the UNC–Chapel Hill campus since 1968. The program seeks to rethink conventional understandings of leadership; to facilitate learning between and among program members; to build a supportive community through methods like storytelling and dialogue; and to encourage positive social change by way of those mechanisms. Program elements include a new member retreat, an annual all-Fellows retreat, a three-credit-hour course for sophomore students, a one-credit capstone course for senior students, and monthly seminars throughout the experience. Interested students can apply during the spring semester of their first year.
