Licensure

The School of Education recommends eligible graduates of its approved education programs to the North Carolina State Department of Public Instruction for licensure as teachers, school administrators, school counselors, school psychologists, and curriculum and instruction specialists. In addition, the school recommends licensure candidates from the following University degree programs: the School of Information and Library Science (for school media coordinators), the School of Social Work (for school social workers), and graduates of the speech-language pathology program in the Division of Speech and Hearing Sciences.

Initial professional licensure is recommended for master of arts in teaching graduates at the initial level and for master of education in school counseling at the advanced specialist level. The master's program for experienced teachers provides the opportunity for practicing teachers to achieve the advanced competencies of master's-level licensure in a variety of specialty areas. School administrators are eligible for licensure at the master's and doctoral levels. School psychologists are eligible for licensure at the [DM1] doctoral level. Curriculum and instruction specialists may earn the add-on license at the master's level or complete an Ed.D. for doctoral-level licensure [DM2].

Applications for North Carolina licensure must be submitted through the N.C. Department of Public Instruction's online licensure system by the graduate seeking N.C. licensure. Forms are no longer submitted by the UNC School of Education Licensure Officer. The UNC School of Education Licensure reviews and either approves or denies all licensure applications routed to UNC through the N.C. Department of Public Instruction online licensure system. More information about applying for N.C. licensure is available on the School of Education Web site (http://soe.unc.edu/services/student_affairs/licensure/).

The programs described in this catalog are approved by the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction, the State Board of Education, and the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (now the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation).
The Graduate School administers all but the master of school administration program and the master's for experienced teachers, which the School of Education administers.

Two off-campus, part-time programs are offered: the master of education (M.Ed.) for experienced teachers and the flexible master of school administration (M.S.A. Flex). The content specialty areas for the M.Ed. program are early childhood intervention and family support (birth through kindergarten), literacy, social studies, mathematics, science, special education, and English as a second language. Content specialty areas generally offer admission every other year although some areas are offered more or less often.

The part-time, off-campus M.S.A. Flex program is designed for working professionals and stretches the normal two-year program offered on campus over an extended period of two and a half academic years, beginning each January with a new cohort. While the program emphasizes preparation for the school principalship, individuals with other educational career aspirations (such as district-level leadership positions) will find it appropriate.

Education Degree Requirements

M.A. Degree Requirements
1. A bachelor's degree from an accredited four-year university
2. Completion of a minimum of 30 hours of graduate coursework and two consecutive semesters in residence
3. Completion of all required and elective courses within five years of admission
4. A grade of Pass on a written comprehensive exam or approved equivalent
5. Filing the degree application no later than the date specified in the academic calendar
6. A grade of P or better is required in all EDUC courses. One grade of F in an EDUC course makes a student academically ineligible to continue in the program

M.Ed. Degree Requirements
1. A bachelor's degree from an accredited four-year college or university
2. Completion of the minimum required number of semester hours of graduate coursework (Check with individual programs to ascertain the minimum requirements.)
3. Completion of at least two consecutive semesters in residence
4. Completion of all required and elective courses within five years of admission
5. A grade of Pass on a written comprehensive examination or approved equivalent.
6. Filing the degree application no later than the date specified in the academic calendar
7. A grade of P or better is required in all EDUC courses. One grade of F in an EDUC course or 9 hours of L (Low Pass) makes a student academically ineligible to continue in the program.

M.A.T. Degree Requirements
1. A bachelor's degree from an accredited four-year college or university
2. The equivalent of an undergraduate major in the chosen subject area
3. Completion of a minimum of 40 semester hours of advanced coursework
4. Completion of at least two consecutive semesters in residence
5. Completion of all required and elective courses within five years of admission
6. Completion of a teacher leadership project and capstone teacher research project (in conjunction with required course)
7. Passing scores on the Teaching Performance Assessment (edTPA), which synthesizes coursework and experiences as related to state and national standards and is required for North Carolina teaching license recommendation
8. Passing the PRAXIS II pedagogy exams (for secondary candidates); passing the Foundation of Reading (for elementary and K–12 Special Education candidates)
9. Passing the PRAXIS II exams related to optional add-on licensure area of ESL or Special Education as specified by the N.C. Department of Public Instruction
10. Successful completion of the full-time student teaching internship
11. Filing the degree application no later than the date specified in the academic calendar
12. A grade of P or better is required in all EDUC courses. One grade of F in an EDUC course makes a student academically ineligible to continue in the program
13. A bachelor's degree from an accredited four-year college or university
14. The equivalent of an undergraduate major in the chosen subject area
15. Completion of a minimum of 40 semester hours of advanced coursework
16. Completion of at least two consecutive semesters in residence
17. Completion of all required and elective courses within five years of admission
18. Passing scores on the Teaching Performance Assessment (edTPA), which synthesizes coursework and experiences as related to state and national standards and is required for North Carolina teaching license recommendation
19. Passing the PRAXIS II pedagogy exams (for secondary candidates); passing the Foundation of Reading (for elementary candidates)
20. Successful completion of the full-time student teaching internship
21. Filing the degree application no later than the date specified in the academic calendar
22. A grade of P or better is required in all EDUC courses. One grade of F in an EDUC course makes a student academically ineligible to continue in the program

M.S.A. Degree Requirements
1. A bachelor's degree from an accredited four-year college or university
2. Completion of the minimum required number of semester hours of graduate coursework. (Check with individual programs to ascertain the minimum requirements.)
3. Completion of a full year (10 months) or 360 hours (part-time) administrative internship
4. Completion of a portfolio of artifacts that demonstrate mastery of N.C. Standards for School Executives
5. A grade of P or better is required in all EDUC courses. One grade of F in an EDUC course makes a student academically ineligible to continue in the program. Two or more grades of L make a student academically ineligible to continue in the program.

Ed.D. (Doctor of Education) Degree Requirements
1. A bachelor's degree from an accredited four-year college or university and a master's degree in the field of educational leadership, administration, or an approved field. Students without such a master’s degree can still be admitted into the program as judged by faculty review. For the Ed.D. in curriculum and instruction, a master’s degree is required, but it is not discipline specific. While it need not be discipline or subject specific, it typically focuses on educational practice or academic study of educational issues and topics.

2. Ed.S. students have five years to complete all coursework, while Ed.D. students have eight years to complete both the coursework and the dissertation.

3. A grade of P or better is required in all EDUC courses. One grade of F in an EDUC course makes a student academically ineligible to continue in the program.

4. Completion of 10 to 12 semester hours of research courses or research experiences as specified in the individualized program of study

5. Completion of a research apprenticeship in the student’s area of specialization is required for the curriculum and instruction program.

6. Completion of a supervised field experience in the student’s area of specialization is required for the educational leadership program, with additional requirements for the curriculum and instruction supervision licensure.

7. A grade of Pass on a written comprehensive examination

8. A grade of Pass on an oral examination

9. Successful completion of a final oral examination, which is the defense of the dissertation

10. Satisfactory completion of a research- or practice-based dissertation

11. Filing a degree application no later than the date specified in the academic calendar

Ph.D. (Doctor of Philosophy) Degree Requirements

In addition to the requirements of The Graduate School for the Ph.D., the School of Education also requires

1. Full-time enrollment until all formal coursework is completed
2. Completion of all required coursework on an approved individual program of study consisting of required and elective courses
3. A grade of P or better is required in all EDUC courses. One grade of F in an EDUC course makes a student academically ineligible to continue in the program.

Programs of Study

Master of Arts (M.A.) in Education

Master of Arts in Educational Innovation, Technology, and Entrepreneurship

The M.A. in Educational Innovation, Technology, and Entrepreneurship (MEITE) is a professional degree program that prepares its graduates for careers in the educational technology field, both in the public and private sectors. Students from all backgrounds join the program, and MEITE enrolls students into either full-time or part-time cohorts that begin in August and January.

The MEITE program is 36.0 credit hours, and it consists of a “core” group of courses (12.0 credit hours), one specialized course track (12.0 credit hours), a yearlong internship experience (6.0 credit hours), and a summer thesis project (12.0 credit hours). There are four specialized tracks, and students are to complete one of the following track options:

- The Edupreneur utilizes the core concepts for design thinking to develop and prepare for the launching of unique, innovative ventures in the field of educational technology. This track is ideal for students who wish to begin their own startup or join an early-stage startup.

- The Innovative Specialist gains a deep understanding of the trends, research, and budgetary issues related to leadership, business, and innovation in educational organizations. This track prepares students to work in the innovation departments of educational organizations, including companies, schools, districts, and non-profits.

- The Learning Engineer uses the learning sciences and design thinking principles along with data and analytics to improve designers’ choices, instructors’ practices, and learners’ experiences and outcomes. This track builds the knowledge and skills needed to work in school districts, universities, textbook companies, eLearning providers, training departments, and non-profit organizations.

- The Human-Machine Interactionist learns the attributes necessary for effective human-machine interaction from an end-user perspective, which includes the visual aesthetics, intuitive design, technical knowledge, and text transactions. This track prepares students to join firms developing digital products for teaching, learning, productivity, and efficiency.

Throughout the program, students will collaborate with the MEITE program director, advisor, and faculty, who work to ensure the students have a positive experience in the classroom, at their internship, and after the program.

Master of Education (M.Ed.) for Experienced Teachers

The M.Ed. for experienced teachers is a part-time, field-based program for teachers currently employed in local schools and community-based programs, public and private. The program is designed to assist licensed teachers having at least two years of experience in reflecting upon their experiences and developing further skill and art as professional educators. It is a 31- to 36-hour program (depending on the content area) that begins in the summer and extends through the subsequent two years. Courses during the traditional calendar school year are offered generally from 4:30 p.m. to 7:20 p.m. in a hybrid format. For specifics about content areas, please visit the School of Education’s Web site (http://soe.unc.edu) or call (919) 966-1346.

Master of Education (M.Ed.) in School Counseling

The M.Ed. program in school counseling is predicated on the Strengths-Based School Counseling (SBSC) model, which asserts that the school counselor's primary role is to promote and advocate for positive youth development for all students and for the environments that enhance and sustain that development.

The SBSC approach characterizes positive youth development as nurturing and enhancing empirically identified student strengths or competencies rather than focusing on student weaknesses and problem areas.

SBSC provides a framework to guide the practice of school counseling in the 21st century that is both compatible with and operationalizes many of the features of the ASCA National Model for School Counseling Programs.

Strengths-based school counselors employ a variety of direct (e.g., counseling, classroom guidance) and systemic (e.g., consultation, advocacy) interventions to promote culturally relevant student development in the academic, personal/social, and career domains. The strengths-based perspective identifies the counselor as a school leader who works with students, teachers, administrators, parents, and other members of the community and promotes strengths-enhancing environments for all students.

Requirements
The M.Ed. program in school counseling consists of four semesters of full-time study, 60 semester hours of coursework over a 14-month period. Students normally begin classes during the last week in May. Students finish the program by August of the year following their entrance into the program.

Because the 60 semester hours of coursework are completed in a 14-month period rather than in the more traditional two-year period for programs of this type, this is a concentrated and intense program. As a result, only full-time students are admitted, and students may not enter the program at times other than the one specified above.

1. Thirty (30) hours of content courses
2. Twenty-four (24) hours of skill/clinical courses
3. Six (6) hours of graduate-level electives, approved by the advisor

The fall practicum runs from August through October. The fall internship runs from October through December. Students must spend a minimum of 100 (40 direct service) clock hours in the practicum and 600 (240 direct service) hours in the internship in their field experiences during the August to June K–12 public school year. The schedule for accumulating the required 700 hours is typically completed in three full-time days per week at the school site and/or arranged with both the field supervisor and EDUC 705 instructors.

Master of Arts in Teaching (M.A.T.)
The Master of Arts in Teaching (M.A.T.) program is designed for individuals wishing to teach elementary school (grades K–6) or middle school (grades 6–8)/high school (grades 9–12) in the subject areas in math, science, English, or social studies. This field-based, student-centered, cohort model program relies on partnerships between public schools and the University and provides the context of real classrooms as the motivation for students to connect theory and practice. Through the use of its signature pedagogy of experiential education, the M.A.T. is a professional preparation program that is designed to prepare candidates for initial teaching licensure in North Carolina by providing opportunities for students to accomplish three general objectives:

1. Expand their understanding of methodology in a content specialization
2. Gain an understanding of curriculum and instruction, and
3. Provide knowledge of the social and psychological foundations of education

The M.A.T. is a 12-month, full-time program that requires 40 hours of coursework. There are optional add-on programs (12 hours each) in special education and English as a second language, which, if taken, extend the program length and cost by approximately two months. Seminars, methods, contexts, learner, and learning courses are ongoing throughout the M.A.T. and are both interdisciplinary and subject area oriented.

The program of study and more detailed program and application information can be found on the School of Education’s Web site. (http://soe.unc.edu/academics/mat/#program-details)

Some clinical placements could include multiple settings and levels of instruction.

Seminars, methods, contexts, learner, and learning courses are ongoing over the entire 12-month period and are both interdisciplinary and subject area oriented.

Master of School Administration (M.S.A.)
The M.S.A. on-campus and M.S.A. FLEX programs prepare individuals to lead schools and other educational organizations for the schools of North Carolina and the nation. These programs include three dimensions:

1. Awareness (i.e., acquiring concepts, information, definitions, and procedures)
2. Understanding (i.e., interpreting knowledge to school environments, integrating concepts with practice, and using knowledge and skills in context)
3. Knowledge (i.e., applying knowledge and skills to specific problems of practice)

While most of those who complete this program move into administrative positions at the school-site level, some assume roles within state, regional, or national organizations that focus on educational professional development, research, or policy making. The completion of this program leads to eligibility for licensure from the North Carolina State Department of Public Instruction and qualifies graduates for administrative certification in most states. For additional information, please visit the school’s Web site (http://soe.unc.edu).

Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) in Curriculum and Instruction
The Ed.D. program in curriculum and instruction is designed specifically for people who seek to become curriculum leaders for the 21st century. While the target populations for this program are those who have master’s degrees and who work in curriculum or instructional specialties offices and state departments of public instruction, higher education and non-profits. The program will also enroll experienced teachers and other school personnel who have or seek leadership roles within schools or other educational settings. The program also prepares curriculum developers and those professionals interested in assessment in higher education. Potential professional leadership roles for curriculum and instruction doctoral program graduates include district- or state-level directors of curriculum and instruction or a specialty area, P-12 specialty area supervisors, school-based leaders working with mentor teachers, leaders in higher education and leaders in non-profit settings. A variety of specialty areas may be selected within the Ed.D. program; those include instructional technology, curriculum design and development, cultural and linguistic diversity, special education, universal pre-kindergarten, international education, higher education and non-profit management. This program accommodates full and part time students.

Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) in Educational Leadership
The Educational Leadership doctoral program develops students primarily for leadership roles in K–12 public school districts throughout the nation. The program prepares students to excel in ever-changing national, state, and local educational environments. Courses are offered in the evenings during the fall and spring terms, in the summer and on weekends. Most students are enrolled part time and typically take two courses per semester.
Students may transfer up to nine credit hours, subject to program faculty approval. Credits must have been taken at the graduate level, for a grade, within the past five years.

Educational Specialist, Ed.S.
The School of Education is approved by the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction to recommend the educational specialist license in the areas of educational leadership. More information on the required programs of study and specific licensing requirements can be found on the School of Education's Web site.

Educational Leadership, Ed.D.
The program of study for the Ed.D. in educational leadership can be found on the School of Education's Web site.

If an Ed.D. student does not have a master’s degree in educational leadership or school administration, he or she is required to take a minimum of nine additional credits in the Master of School Administration (M.S.A.) program. The student may, with the chair’s permission, transfer up to nine educational leadership credits from another accredited institution.

Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) in Education
The schools in North Carolina and in the nation face myriad complex issues and challenges. These challenges range from meeting the educational and social-emotional needs of diverse student populations to designing, implementing, and evaluating educational programs within cultural contexts. The Ph.D. in education prepares leaders in educational research who understand these issues and who can improve educational practice using state-of-the-art knowledge and research skills. The design of the program fosters collaboration among faculty members and students from diverse disciplines. Such cooperation across levels and areas of interest provides the opportunity to develop relevant research agendas. Graduates of this program are prepared for leadership positions in research and teaching at major universities and institutes in the state and nation.

The Ph.D. in education is a single program with five research emphases: applied developmental sciences and special education; cultural studies and literacies; learning sciences and psychological studies; policy, leadership, and school improvement; and teacher education and curriculum. These five fields blend areas of inquiry that were formerly discrete.

The mission of the applied developmental science and special education (ADSSE) program area is to train doctoral students in the interdisciplinary, theoretical foundations of applied developmental science and special education. These foundations will provide young scholars with the tools to advance knowledge about human development from birth through adolescence, with a particular focus on studying children/students at risk for learning and behavioral challenges. This mission is accomplished by offering research perspectives in

1. the developmental trajectories of families and children/students from diverse sociocultural backgrounds in the multiple contexts in which they live, including school, home, neighborhoods, and communities, as well as a grounding in
2. evidence-based models of prevention that seek to provide equitable opportunities for learning and successful adjustment for all children by emphasizing education and instruction directed towards individual differences among learners.

The ADSSE program is dedicated to developing a new generation of interdisciplinary scholars who have acquired a rigorous research knowledge base with expertise in a quantitative, mixed method, and single case methodology. Students work closely with their advisor and committee members to develop the skills and experiences necessary to work as leaders in a variety of research settings, including institutions of higher education, governmental entities at the state or federal level, and private research firms. Students may choose one of three specializations within the ADSSE strand: 1) Applied Developmental Science; 2) Special Education; and 3) Sociocultural Diversity. Throughout the doctoral experience, students will engage in research activities, grant writing, and the dissemination of their research and prevention efforts, such as presenting their research at local, state, and national conferences, and teaching college-level classes.

The Culture, Curriculum and Teacher Education strand is designed for future scholars and researchers who will study the linguistic, social, and cultural contexts of education and how culture, language, and education are produced locally, nationally, and globally. This strand prepares future scholars, researchers, and faculty members who work in the areas of multiple and critical literacies; social and cultural foundations of education; the intersectionality of race, gender, language, sexual orientation, and class; qualitative research methods broadly conceived; and how all to these contribute to creating social and educational inequities. Our focus is both critical and constructive. Our efforts first describe, interpret, and critique current practice and belief and then move to strategizing about how to create a more equitable society and world. We prepare scholars to be first rate educators, theorists, and qualitative research methodologists—and advocates for change.

The Learning Sciences and Psychological Studies (LSPS) Ph.D. program draws upon the relatively new field of learning sciences that has emerged to address the increasingly inter- and multidisciplinary nature of work within and beyond the academy. Program faculty represent a diverse set of academic backgrounds and fields (e.g., critical theory, educational psychology, psychometrics, school psychology, sociocultural studies, mathematics and science education, technology studies, statistics). LSPS focuses on learning, a cognitive, social, and cultural activity that is distributed among the participating actors as individuals and groups within a specific context. The strand examines formal and informal learning within and across multiple contexts (e.g., teaching and learning in classrooms, centers, communities, homes, museums, schools, virtual environments) from multiple perspectives (e.g., critical, disciplinary, design-based, postpositivist, poststructuralist, and structuralist). The rigorous study of formal and informal learning utilizes multiple paradigms and employs quantitative, qualitative, and mixed methods approaches most appropriate for the questions investigated. The examination of formal and informal learning seeks to understand how people learn and how this learning is influenced by knowledge, networks, social and societal structures, tools (e.g., technology), and an array of sociocultural factors. The goals of this examination of learning is to produce theory, generate research, inform policy, and develop practice that leads to the construction and design of environments that facilitate optimal opportunity and access for and development of all participants, within the contexts in which formal and informal learning occurs. LSPS is committed to the preparation of doctoral students who develop an interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary expertise within a concentration (e.g., mathematics and science education, education and technology, cognition and learning, quantitative methods and evaluation). LSPS intends to develop doctoral candidates who thoroughly understand theory, research, the paradigmatic underpinnings of each and the plausible implications of each for policy and practice; who are able to generate scholarship and design and conduct rigorous theory-driven research appropriate for the issues identified; and who are able to foster mutually informative, translational relationships among the diverse stakeholders in academic, policy, and practice communities.

Students interested in LSPS can elect to concentrate in a number of areas, including mathematics education, science education, educational technology, cognition, and quantitative methods and evaluation. The design of the LSPS program requires committed engagement on the part of students and faculty members in order to benefit from the dynamic interaction that occurs when multiple, interdisciplinary perspectives are used to inform learning and achievement.

The aim of the Ph.D. program in policy, leadership, and school improvement (PLS) is to prepare leaders who will influence the direction of educational organizations at home and around the world. The program produces scholars, administrators, and analysts for leadership roles in K–12 systems, universities, research organizations, and policy-making bodies. It does so by developing students’ understanding of the societal, political, and economic conditions affecting schools; the capacity to analyze educational problems and their proposed solutions; and the ability to design innovations and implementation processes that work.

The Ph.D. program in PLS is among the few programs at elite public universities in the nation to offer opportunities to study with a faculty whose work in K–12 administration, education policy, and school improvement is internationally known. As leaders in these areas, our faculty works collaboratively with students to develop research questions and hypotheses, study them in state and national settings, and link findings to practice. Faculty and students in PLS are engaged in the examination and critique of today’s important and contested issues in education, including

- Teacher quality
- Turn-around schools
- High school effectiveness
- Resource allocation
- Principal instructional leadership
- Issues of class, gender, immigration, and race in education

In addition to disciplinary core and research courses, students pursue programs of study that include courses in policy making, education program evaluation and policy analysis, school law, leadership, educational innovation, implementation, and taking reforms to scale. In combination with courses in quantitative, qualitative, and mixed research methods, students develop their research skills through a professional seminar and assistantships with faculty members. Committed to professional service, our faculty members are also members of editorial boards and advisory forums at the national, state, and local levels. They also work directly with school systems, consulting on issues of staffing, instructional delivery, and governance. PLS faculty members are currently working with the federal Race to the Top initiative in North Carolina and a national education research center funded by the U.S. Department of Education.

Engaging the tensions of individual freedom and collective responsibility and addressing both local and national issues and their histories, as well as international perspectives, scholarship in teacher education and curriculum includes school-based inquiry as well as theoretical studies of pedagogy, knowledge, and the construction of democratic communities. This inquiry flourishes when it employs a variety of research methods, qualitative and quantitative research as well as historical, literary, and philosophical studies. Students will select research courses that will complement their own intellectual skills and prepare them to address the problems they wish to study. Students in the Ph.D. program are required to maintain full-time enrollment through the completion of coursework, with the expectation that they will graduate in three to four years. Programs of study are available on the School of Education’s Web site (http://soe.unc.edu).

Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) in School Psychology

The goal of the UNC-Chapel Hill doctoral School Psychology program is to prepare school psychologists as scientist-practitioners to assume leadership positions in academic, research, and applied settings (e.g., schools, clinics and hospitals). To this end students study both broad and general knowledge in psychology, obtain knowledge, skills, and competencies specific to a professional psychologist, and participate in a wide variety of supervised clinical and research activities designed to prepare them for these positions. The UNC doctoral program is accredited by the American Psychological Association (http://www.apa.org) and through this accreditation has approval by the National Association of School Psychologists (http://www.nasponline.org).
Applicants to the program should have an undergraduate degree in psychology or human development, or a master's or specialist degree in an area of psychology, education, or related discipline.

The program emphasizes a prevention/intervention approach to enhancing the academic and social/emotional competencies of children and youth. It also emphasizes an ecological, systems perspective, recognizing that children and youth reside within increasingly complex situations, including their families, neighborhoods, communities, and school. Furthermore, the interdisciplinary nature of the school system is emphasized and students develop the skills and understanding necessary to communicate with other school professionals as well as parents and community agencies as part of a multidisciplinary team. Finally, intervention research and implementation science are the used as the framework from which psychologists can help manage the research to practice gap and learn to successfully promote evidence-based practices. Students are expected to develop expertise in assessment, intervention, prevention, consultation, evaluation, and research, gaining increasingly advanced knowledge and skills as they progress through the program. Within the educational setting, school psychologists serve numerous clients including pupils, teachers, supporting educational personnel, and parents. In community and clinical settings students gain experience providing services to high needs populations of children, youth and families. Students take internships in school, clinic and hospital settings in North Carolina and around the nation and most participate in the APPIC process. Completion of the program leads to eligibility for licensure from the State Department of Public Instruction (http://www.ncpublicschools.org/licensure/) as a Level III School Psychologist in North 22 | Rev 071218 Carolina and qualifies one for such certification in most other states. Also, graduates are eligible for licensing by the North Carolina State Psychology Board.

EDUC 815. Doctoral Seminar in School Counseling. 3 Credits.
Provides an in-depth appraisal of topics of theoretical and/or clinical nature that are of particular relevance to the field.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 816. Transformational Education. 3 Credits.
Examines 20th-century schools that have attempted to redefine and deepen United States democracy, embracing pedagogies and values that offer alternatives to mainstream education.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 817. Introduction to Educational Research. 3 Credits.
Course provides introduction to purposes of educational research, roles of theories, hypotheses, questions, and ethical issues. While being exposed to a range of research designs, students are to become critical reviewers and develop research proposals or a master’s thesis.
Repeat rules: May be repeated for credit.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 818. School Psychology Intervention and Assessment III. 3 Credits.
We will develop knowledge and skills that relate to the implementation of evidenced-based interventions. This innovation implementation course is based on Forman (2009).
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 819. School Psychology Intervention and Assessment IV. 3 Credits.
This project-based course focuses on utilizing the fields of intervention research and social entrepreneurship to design a novel educational innovation.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 820. Doctoral Seminar in Professional School Psychology. 3 Credits.
Required preparation, appropriate courses. Permission of the instructor. Considers advanced topics in the field of school psychology such as professional issues, standards and ethics, and interdisciplinary relations.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 821. Doctoral Externship in School Psychology. 1-3 Credits.
Permission of the instructor. Supervised field placement experiences for doctoral-level students in school psychology, integrating training with field responsibilities at a systems level in schools and school-related settings.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 822. Doctoral Internship in School Psychology. 1-6 Credits.
Supervised doctoral internship in school psychology for advanced training in professional skills and research in schools and school-related settings.
Requisites: Prerequisite, EDUC 821.
Repeat rules: May be repeated for credit; may be repeated in the same term for different topics; 12 total credits. 4 total completions.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 823. Policy Development in Education. 3 Credits.
Graduate course about the political process and policy dynamics. With a focus on the U.S. domestic context, the course addresses the policy process in general and examines the workings of that process in education.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 824. Fundamentals of Educational Research. 3 Credits.
Explores and analyzes the range of educational research designs including experimental, correlational, survey, descriptive, case study, ethnography, narrative, policy, and longitudinal research.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 825. Development and Learning. 3 Credits.
Introduces influential theoretical approaches to the study of development and learning. Students learn how to apply various methodological approaches and theoretical frameworks. Readings include developmental psychology, learning sciences, and cultural anthropology.
Repeat rules: May be repeated for credit. 9 total credits. 3 total completions.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 826. Promoting Mental Health and Wellness in Schools. 3 Credits.
This course addresses the high-incidence mental health diagnostic categories in children and adolescents and the roles of administrators, school counselors, and other school support staff in supporting students with mental health diagnoses.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 827. Human Development. 3 Credits.
School of Education majors only. Emphasizes theories of child and adolescent development as well as research findings that aid in the understanding of human behavior and development.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 828. Educational Measurement and Evaluation. 3 Credits.
Identifies the basic concepts in measurement and evaluation, describes the role of evaluation in curriculum construction and revision, and describes the development and use of teacher-constructed tests.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 829. Applied Measurement Theory for Education. 3 Credits.
Prerequisite, EDUC 828. An examination of the logic and theory of educational measurement. Practical applications of measurement theory to the construction and use of a variety of educational measurement devices.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 830. Field Techniques in Educational Research. 3 Credits.
Introduces students to field research methods and analysis of qualitative data that focuses on the application of these techniques in evaluation and policy research.
Grading status: Letter grade.
EDUC 831. School Law: Justice and Equity. 3 Credits.
Required preparation, six semester hours of graduate school work in school administration. Provides an overview of the legal structure of education, liability, constitutional rights, contractual relationships, federal regulations, and collective action. May be repeated for credit.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 832. Politics of Education. 3 Credits.
Students study the politics surrounding the nation’s largest public institution (education) along with the motivations and maneuvering of people with power to shape it.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 833. Development and Systems Leadership. 3 Credits.
Focused on the issues pertaining to personnel, planning, facilities, administrative applications of technology, superintendent/board relations, district-level curriculum and assessment issues, and creating and sustaining community inter-agency partnerships.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 834. Organizational Behavior and Theory in Education. 3 Credits.
Permission of the instructor. Analyze the theoretical assertions and empirical knowledge claims that have led to the dominant structures, power relationships, and performance expectations of American schools.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 835. Instructional Leadership for Supervision, Curriculum, and Technology. 3 Credits.
Provides fundamental knowledge of instructional design, techniques of teaching/learning, evaluation of the teaching/learning process, and ways in which school-based leaders can support excellence in classroom instruction.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 836. School Finance and Economic Equity. 3 Credits.
Covers the area of financing school corporations in the current economic and political setting, with emphasis on the interrelationships of educational, economic, and political decisions. May be repeated for credit.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 837. Cultural Aspects of Leadership and Instruction in School Reform. 3 Credits.
Designed to provide students with perspectives regarding the interplay of cultural issues that challenge the partnership between administration and instruction.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 838. School Governance. 3 Credits.
Permission of the instructor. Focuses on governance and policy at the school building level and how district-wide governance, state educational policy, federal involvement in education, and educational special interest groups impact school-sized governance.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 839. The Excellent School Seminar I. 3 Credits.
Permission of the instructor. Research and models on high-performing organizations, instructionally effective schools and school systems, and national school reform efforts presented in the context of traditional and emerging organizational theory and research.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 840. Advanced Leadership Theories. 3 Credits.
Requires students to integrate previous studies to focus on management applications, dilemmas, and conflicts.
Requisites: Prerequisites, EDUC 727, 750, 832, and 834.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 841. Development of a Research Proposal. 3 Credits.
Requires students to integrate previous studies to focus on theory, inquiry, and organizational practice.
Requisites: Prerequisites, EDUC 727, 832, and 834.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 842. The Excellent School Seminar II. 3 Credits.
Permission of the instructor. Research and models on high-performing organizations, instructionally effective schools and school systems, and national school reform efforts presented in the context of traditional and emerging organizational theory and research.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 843. Seminar in Educational Studies. 3 Credits.
Focuses on educational issues and theories involving culture, curriculum, and change. Issues and theories addressed will vary.
Repeat rules: May be repeated for credit; may be repeated in the same term for different topics; 6 total credits. 2 total completions.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 844. Advanced Seminar and Supervised Internship in Educational Administration. 1-6 Credits.
An advanced internship and seminar relevant to the program in administration and to the student’s progress toward advanced administrative certification. May be repeated for credit.
Requisites: Prerequisites, EDUC 727, 750, 832, 834; Permission of the instructor for students lacking the prerequisites.
Repeat rules: May be repeated for credit; may be repeated in the same term for different topics.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 851. Curriculum Theory. 3 Credits.
Relates curriculum development to relevant theories and research in humanistic and behavioral studies. This is an advanced course.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 852. Instructional Systems Development. 3 Credits.
Delineates strategies for developing instructional systems, including needs assessment, job analysis, goal setting, use of criterion tests, delivery systems, project management, and evaluation of learners and programs.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 853. Supervision and Instruction. 3 Credits.
Examines the history, nature, and purposes of educational supervision, with an emphasis on the supervisor’s role in improving teaching, curriculum development, and staff development.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 854. Seminar in Curriculum and Instruction. 3 Credits.
Review and interpretation of existing research in the area of curriculum and instruction.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 855. Problems in Curriculum and Instruction. 3-6 Credits.
Required preparation, two courses in graduate education. Provides an opportunity for advanced students to do independent study under supervision in an area of study. (Sections include early childhood, intermediate, secondary subjects, media, literacy, and general.) May be repeated for credit.
Repeat rules: May be repeated for credit.
Grading status: Letter grade.
EDUC 856. Practicum in Curriculum and Instruction. 3-6 Credits.
Experiences may include projects, field studies, or internships with one of a number of agencies concerned with education. (Sections include early childhood, intermediate, secondary subjects, media, literacy, and general.)
Repeat rules: May be repeated for credit.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 857. Research Apprenticeship. 1-6 Credits.
Research apprenticeship for all students in the Curriculum and Instruction Ed.D. program. Individually arranged with a faculty advisor and an appropriate placement.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 861. Seminar in Special Education. 3 Credits.
Emphasis on developmental deviation exhibited by exceptional children in cognitive, language, social, and affective development.
Repeat rules: May be repeated for credit; may be repeated in the same term for different topics.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 862. Teaching and Personnel Development. 3 Credits.
Focuses on teaching and personnel development at the preservice and inservice levels. Topics include: application of adult learning principles and styles; syllabus development; technology and teaching; supervision; mentorship and research innovations in college teaching.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 863. Supervised Post-Master's Internship in Special Education. 1-21 Credits.
Permission of the instructor. A full-time field placement under the joint direction of a University staff member and a selected professional at the internship site.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 864. Families, Schools, and Child Development: Successful Intervention Strategies. 3 Credits.
The purpose of this seminar is to provide an introduction to the theory, research, methods, and current issues related to the influence of families and schools on children's development.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 865. College Teaching Internship. 1-3 Credits.
Open to graduate students only. Permission of the instructor. This course is designed to give doctoral and masters' students experience at college teaching prior to taking on full responsibility for a class of her/his own. The student will fully participate as a teaching assistant in the class of an experienced tenured, tenure track, or clinical professor.
Repeat rules: May be repeated for credit.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 866. Policy to Practice. 3 Credits.
Examine relationships between broader social, economic, and political currents and the chosen instruments for education reform. Students examine what purposes stakeholders believe schools serve and how policy is/isn't translated into practice.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 867. Issues in Educational Policy and Research. 3 Credits.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 868. Advanced Qualitative Analysis and Interpretation. 3 Credits.
This advanced seminar focuses on the needs of doctoral students immersed in qualitative research, with an emphasis on data analysis and representation.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 871. Seminar in Education. 3 Credits.
Required preparation, two courses in graduate education. Permission of the instructor. Provides for seminar treatment of appropriate topics.
Repeat rules: May be repeated for credit; may be repeated in the same term for different topics.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 872. UNC Teaching Fellows: Community of Learners. 1 Credit.
This course is required during both fall and spring semesters for all UNC students currently receiving funding through the North Carolina Teaching Fellows Program. The course will focus on addressing NC Teaching Fellows Commission mandated enhancements in areas of leadership, diverse learners, classroom management, and assessment. Fellows will reflect on experiences and knowledge gained through readings, discussions, and community engagement.
Repeat rules: May be repeated for credit. 6 total credits. 6 total completions.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 873. Problems in the Philosophical Foundations of Education. 3-21 Credits.
Provides an opportunity for advanced doctoral students to do independent study under supervision.
Requisites: Prerequisite, EDUC 779.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 874. Problems in the Sociological Foundations of Education. 3-21 Credits.
Provides an opportunity for advanced doctoral students to do independent study under supervision.
Requisites: Prerequisite, EDUC 772.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 876. Histories of School and Schooling. 3 Credits.
Course provides an understanding of the history of American public education, its current status and research in education based in a larger context of society, and its schools and schooling practices.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 877. Critical Multicultural Education. 3 Credits.
Examination of the current issues in multicultural education, cultural study, and the development of curriculum for critical multicultural education.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 878. Seminar in Educational Studies. 3 Credits.
Involves an in-depth exploration of theories and issues involving culture, curriculum, and change. Topics will vary.
Repeat rules: May be repeated for credit; may be repeated in the same term for different topics.
Grading status: Letter grade.
EDUC 879. Causal Inference in Educational Research. 3 Credits.
The seminar will explore issues related to causal inference in educational research and discuss several research designs that are well-suited for making causal inferences. We will draw upon the counter-factual model of causality to discuss what it means to observe a cause and effect relationship and then focus on the problems researchers regularly encounter. The course will provide a detailed discussion of a wide range of experimental and quasi-experimental research designs.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 881. Seminar in Human Development and Individual Differences. 3 Credits.
Required preparation, at least one course in human development at the graduate level or permission of the instructor. Analyzes research data and theoretical positions pertaining to individual differences in human development in the educational setting.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 882. Seminar in Human Learning and Cognition. 3 Credits.
Required preparation, one or two courses in educational and developmental psychology. Studies theoretical aspects and practical implications of psychologies of learning.
Repeat rules: May be repeated for credit; may be repeated in the same term for different topics.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 883. Case Study Methods. 3 Credits.
Provides students with an overview of the methodology of case study research and to enhance students' skills in using research techniques.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 884. Statistical Analysis of Educational Data III. 3 Credits.
An extension of the general linear model to analysis of educational data with multiple dependent variables, with computer applications.
Requisites: Prerequisites, EDUC 710 and 784.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 885. Secondary Data Analysis. 3 Credits.
Provides students who have an introductory background in statistics with an overview of secondary data analysis and enhances students' skills in using data analysis to test hypotheses.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 887. Teacher Education Seminar for MAT Supervisors. 1 Credit.
This course is required during both fall and spring semesters for all MAT supervisors. The course will focus on exploring teacher education through the lens of field-based supervision. Weekly meetings to bring teacher education research and literature to supervisors' ongoing practice through discussion of selected readings, book study, dialogue about problems of practice. The course will align supervisors' practice in the field with MAT methods pedagogical approaches for supervisors to best support candidates.
Requisites: Prerequisite, EDUC 754 highly recommended but not required.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 888. Introduction to Structural Modeling. 3 Credits.
Introduces structural equation modeling with both observed and latent variables. Applications include confirmatory factor analysis, multiple group analyses, longitudinal analyses, and multitrait-multimethod models.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 890. Special Topics in Education. 1-3 Credits.
This course provides students the opportunity for intensive exploration and discussion of selected topics in education.
Repeat rules: May be repeated for credit; may be repeated in the same term for different topics.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 891. Educational Policy Doctoral Seminar. 3 Credits.
Provides for seminar treatment of appropriate topics related to education policy.
Repeat rules: May be repeated for credit; may be repeated in the same term for different topics.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 892. Seminar in Educational Studies. 3-6 Credits.
Topics in educational philosophy to be determined by the students with the instructor. May be repeated for credit.
Repeat rules: May be repeated for credit.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 902. Sociology of School Improvement. 3 Credits.
This course aims to develop a sociological understanding of the complex relationship between education and society.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 904. Exploring Representations of Education in Popular Culture. 3 Credits.
Students in this course explore and analyze how education has been represented in popular culture. Theoretical foundation of the course from seminars and readings.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 906. Education of African Americans. 3 Credits.
Students examine historical and contemporary aims for and assumptions underlying the public 'education' of African Americans in the United States. Analysis of published histories, theories, qualitative and quantitative research, encounters, events, and issues.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 909. Applied Quantitative Methods in Curriculum and Teacher Education. 3 Credits.
Applied statistics course designed to introduce students to how descriptive and inferential statistics are used in curriculum studies and teacher education. Students explore how statistical procedures are used in school, school district, state, and national settings.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 913. Language, Identity, and Power. 3 Credits.
Language is involved in the construction of social identity and power structures. Students examine how individuals construct their identities and language interacts with other social groupings (class, ethnicity, and gender) and examines how language creates and maintains power for certain groups. Special attention to marginalized groups in the United States.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 915. Introduction to Learning Sciences. 3 Credits.
Course is designed to provide an overview of the field of learning sciences. Goals of learning sciences are: 1) understand the physical, cognitive, and social aspects of learning environments and 2) use these understandings to design more effective learning environments.
Grading status: Letter grade.
EDUC 918. Introduction to Cognitive Science and Sociocultural Perspectives on Learning. 3 Credits.
Course provides an overview of learning theories in education with a special emphasis upon a sociocultural perspective. Course examines how learning theories are or can be enacted in research, policy, and practice.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 919. Design of Technology-Enhanced Learning Environments. 3 Credits.
This course provides a studio-based approach to the design of technology-enhanced learning environments for formal and informal education. Students will explore various forms of emerging technologies for education, engage in a design thinking process, and design prototypes to solve a specific learning problem.
Requisites: Prerequisite, EDUC 824 or equivalent.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 922. Mixed Methods Research. 3 Credits.
Explore foundations of mixed methods. Build familiarity with research designs and methods, learning how to integrate data from mixed methods designs. Learn to critique mixed methods research and designs. Provides preparation for proposing mixed methods projects.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 923. Design Based Research. 3 Credits.
DBR is a multi-disciplinary and mixed methods approach. When developing interventions DBR designers draw theoretical insights from various disciplines (e.g. cognitive science, sociology, learning sciences, instructional design, etc.). When researching interventions, DBR researchers draw from numerous modes of inquiry. Thus, this course is not a substitute for further work in quantitative or qualitative courses. Students in this course should have some grounding in quantitative and qualitative methods and we draw upon this knowledge.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 930. Economics of Education. 3 Credits.
Students consider and critically reflect upon the contributions of economic theory to educational policy issues. Course provides an overview of economic theories as they pertain to the provision of public education and an overview of econometrics. Focuses on salient topics in educational policy and their analysis through an economic lens.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 931. School Law and Public Policy. 3 Credits.
Course examines the judiciary’s role in policy making, and its direct impact on school law and policy issues as they pertain to schools, stakeholders, and society.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 935. Multilevel Modeling. 3 Credits.
The primary goal for the course is to assist the students in investigating research problems in social sciences, particularly when data is meaningfully organized into multiple layers as a hierarchy, or contextual levels. Multilevel models (MLM) are also known as hierarchical linear models (HLM), random coefficient models, or random effects models. MLM can be used to analyze a variety of questions with either categorical or continuous dependent variables, and explained by many independent variables.
Requisites: Prerequisites, EDUC 710 and 784; permission of the instructor for students lacking the prerequisites.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 945. Intellectual Histories of Educational Thought. 3 Credits.
Course will explore ideas about children, families, knowledge, and the state that resonate through European and U.S. histories, primarily, and, though changed, continue to be debated now.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 947. Diversity in Teacher Education. 3 Credits.
Focus on research in teacher education that addresses diversity issues, a particular focus on sociocultural and sociopolitical approaches. Course emphasizes the relationship between theory and practice by focusing on the teacher as an agent of change.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 948. Research in Teacher Education and Diversity. 3 Credits.
Course looks at research in teacher education that addresses diversity issues, with a particular focus on sociocultural and sociopolitical approaches. Course will emphasize the relationship between theory and practice by focusing on the teacher as an agent of change in addressing issues of equity and social justice in diverse classrooms.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 949. Institutional Logics of Curriculum and Teaching. 3 Credits.
Learn about institutional theory and management and issues, policies and practices that describe, define, complicate, and confine those whose work focuses on curriculum and teaching.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 950A. Advanced Curriculum in the Humanities. 3 Credits.
Course brings together those with interests in academic disciplines of literature, history, foreign languages and literatures, English as a second language, and the arts to examine the status of the humanities in our society and in our P-12 schools. Students will consider socio-cultural and political contexts and contributions to the humanities.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 953. Research and Policy in Teacher Education. 3 Credits.
Study different approaches taken to studying teacher education and the implications of that work on policy, tracing the trajectory from research to policy.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 970. Applied Theory and Research: Dissertation Proposal Prep. 3 Credits.
Course explores planning and conducting qualitative research. Students will apply knowledge of qualitative research to dissertation proposal/projects. They will also explore different research proposals and data collection strategies.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 972. Critical Race Theory: History, Research, and Practice. 3 Credits.
Course will explore the historical development of Critical Race Theory (CRT) from its origins in Critical Legal Studies through the more recent frameworks established in education, including intersections with LatCrit Theory, AsianCrit, QueerCrit, TribalCrit, and Critical Race Feminism.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 973. Schooling Experiences of Men of Color. 3 Credits.
Focus, through a critical lens, will be on African American and Latino men, also covers experiences of Asian American and Native American males. Study of research that addresses issues of identity, masculinities, system barriers, cultural capital, and peer group dynamics.
Grading status: Letter grade.
EDUC 974. Critical Social Theory. 3 Credits.
Course explores critical social theories through popular culture texts. Course challenges the perception that popular culture texts have little to offer in the way of educational discourse.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 977. Autoethnography Educational Research. 3 Credits.
Course will focus on the theory and practice of autoethnography, or 'reading' significant patterns in everyday experience and connecting those patterns to the self and to broader social concerns. Students will read models of autoethnography, methodological works, do writing exercises, and create independent autoethnographic projects.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 990. Supervised Research. 1-3 Credits.
Open to graduate students only. Provides students with the opportunity to work with individual faculty members in collaborative research activities in association with a seminar during the second, third, and fourth semesters of study. May be repeated for credit.
Repeat rules: May be repeated for credit; may be repeated in the same term for different topics.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDUC 992. Master's (Non-Thesis). 3 Credits.
Focuses on the development of a master's project or a major paper other than a thesis.
Repeat rules: May be repeated for credit.

EDUC 993. Master's Research and Thesis. 3 Credits.

EDUC 994. Doctoral Research and Dissertation. 3 Credits.

EDMX

Graduate-level Courses

EDMX 704. Literacy Reflection. 3 Credits.
Focuses on reflective literacy teaching: problematizing, processes of understanding students' thinking about reading and writing.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 706. Assessment and Accountability. 3 Credits.
Provides students with the opportunity to review, renew, and expand their understanding of assessment and program evaluation procedures, as well as the role of accountability in educational settings.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 707. Reinventing Teaching. 3 Credits.
Admission to the M.Ed. for experienced teachers program required. Addresses contexts of teaching, teaching in the world, and teaching students in schools. This course is designed for experienced educators to 'reinvent teachers and teaching.'
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 708. Teacher Researcher I. 1-3 Credits.
Enrollment in the M.Ed. for Experienced Teachers program required. Explores the meanings of research and the potential roles of teachers in conducting research. Teachers formulate possible individual or small group research projects that they can carry out during the year.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 709. Teacher Researcher II. 3 Credits.
Teachers will plan and conduct advanced inquiry/research projects informed by their knowledge of teacher-research and their experience as teacher-researchers garnered through their successful completion of EDMX 708.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 710. Teacher Leadership for a Democratic Society. 3 Credits.
Focuses on the nature of change and teachers' roles as leaders within a changing environment. Several themes are addressed: shaping school cultures, schools as communities, schools as sites for reform, and politics and schools.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 715. Assessment and Differentiation. 1 Credit.
Enrollment in the M.Ed. for experienced teachers program required. Enhances teachers' understanding of how to differentiate assessment.
Requisites: Prerequisite, EDMX 707.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 716. Assessment and Differentiation. 3 Credits.
Enrollment in the M.Ed. for experienced teachers program required. Enhances teachers' understanding of how to differentiate instruction.
Using a case-based approach, teachers examine the areas of human development, special education and inclusion, cultural diversity, linguistic diversity, cognitive styles, and multiple intelligences as frames through which to consider creative environments to promote students' classroom success.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 721. Content-Area Reading and Writing. 3 Credits.
Focuses on current theory, research, and issues in the teaching and use of reading and writing in the content areas. This is an introductory course.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 722. Advanced Reflective Literacy Teaching. 3 Credits.
Teachers will learn how to problematize assessment of students' thinking about reading and writing in this practicum course.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 723. Number Systems and Operations: K-5 Mathematical Tasks. 3 Credits.
Course has major restrictions. Analysis and construction of effective mathematical tasks in teaching number systems and operations at the K-5 level; attention is also given to the expansion of content knowledge.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 724. Data Analysis and Measurement: K-5 Classroom Interactions. 3 Credits.
Course has major restrictions. Focuses on statistical literacy of elementary teachers and the teaching of data analysis and measurement to K-5 students; attention is also given to learning methods that facilitate appropriate classroom interactions.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 725. Rational Numbers and Operations: K-5 Learning Trajectories. 3 Credits.
Course has major restrictions. Focuses on rational number concepts through learning trajectories at the K-5 level. Attention also given to problem solving and content knowledge.
Requisites: Prerequisite, EDMX 723.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 726. Revisiting Real Numbers Concepts. 3 Credits.
Uses a problem-based format and group work to explore the mathematics of the real numbers with an emphasis on rational numbers.
Grading status: Letter grade.
EDMX 727. Algebraic Reasoning: K-5 Discourse and Questioning. 3 Credits.
Course has major restrictions. Focus on the early algebra concepts of functional thinking and generalized arithmetic in relationship to pedagogical practices centered on questioning in the mathematics classroom.
Requisites: Prerequisite, EDMX 723.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 728. Topics in Mathematics Education: Geometry. 1-3 Credits.
Provides students with a mathematical foundation and cognitive support for elementary and middle school geometry. Specific goals address structure of elementary and middle school geometry.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 730. Geometry and Spatial Visualization: K-5 Assessment. 3 Credits.
Course has major restrictions. Geometric concept development along with formative and summative assessment strategies of students’ geometric thinking. Attention also is given to geometric content knowledge and diagnosis of student errors.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 731. Writing in the 21st Century. 3 Credits.
Focuses on the writing process and the theoretical foundations necessary to become practitioners who can develop and implement effective writing instruction using 21st-century skills.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 732. Explorations in Literacy. 3 Credits.
Explores what it means to be a reader and writer, the nature of development of literacy.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 733. Spanish for Educators. 3 Credits.
This graduate-level course is an introductory immersion-style Spanish course for anyone involved in education. Learners will acquire novice-level proficiency in Spanish and an awareness of Hispanic culture.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 734. Revisiting Literacy. 3 Credits.
Explores literacy topics as capstone course for master’s or licensure program in literacy.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 735. Math and Content Area Methods: Special Education, General Curriculum. 3 Credits.
Students will learn characteristics of students with mild to moderate learning disabilities in math, social studies, and science. They will also learn assessment techniques and instructional methods to address these specific characteristics.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 736. Mathematical Modeling: K-5 Leadership. 3 Credits.
Restricted to majors. Generating mathematical representations and making explicit connections between concepts. Pedagogy designed to equip elementary teachers to become mathematics teacher-leaders in school settings. Focuses on topics integrated within mathematical strands.
Requisites: Prerequisites, EDMX 723, 724, 725, 727, and 730.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 757. Social Studies Pedagogy A. 1-9 Credits.
Designed to extend students’ professional content knowledge by exploring the content and methods of a social science discipline.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 758. Social Studies Pedagogy B. 3 Credits.
Designed to extend students’ professional content knowledge by exploring the content and methods of a social science discipline.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 759. Contemporary Research for Social Studies Teaching. 3 Credits.
Focuses on current research topics and methodologies in the field of social studies education and examines their implications on the field.
Grading status: Letter grade.

EDMX 760. Integrated Learning. 3 Credits.
