RESOURCES: ACADEMIC AND RESEARCH

Thrive@Carolina Campus Hubs
Chloë J. Russell, M.Ed., Associate Dean and Director

Thrive@Carolina Campus Hubs (Hubs), which includes Academic Advising (https://advising.unc.edu), is a collaborative and innovative approach to deliver holistic support to undergraduates from admission through graduation. Its mission is to champion students’ individual stories through purposeful interactions so that they achieve their academic, personal, and post-UNC goals. Anchored in the belief that we serve a diverse population in which every student does not need the same support or know the same information, Hubs partner with students as they unlock their potential, activate their plans, secure their opportunities, and cultivate their community. Nestled within the College of Arts & Sciences, Hubs are comprised of approximately 60 full- and part-time personnel and serve students in a variety of campus locations.

Center for Student Success
Marcus L. Collins, Ed.D., Associate Dean and Director

2203 SASB North; (919) 966-2143.

The Center for Student Success (CFSS) (http://cssac.unc.edu) has a simple mission, which is connecting with you to promote your academic and personal growth to all UNC–Chapel Hill students. Its constituent offices and programs (The Learning Center, The Writing Center, Peer Mentoring, Summer Bridge, First-Generation College Students, and Transfer Student Support) support you in developing the skills and strategies needed to excel at UNC and beyond. Our commitment to student learning supports the University’s mission to “teach a diverse community of undergraduate, graduate, and professional students to become the next generation of leaders.” We also support the University’s commitment to diversity and in doing so sponsor programs and activities that promote academic excellence, increase retention, and improve the campus climate for diversity among our undergraduates.

The Learning Center
Kim Abels, Ph.D., Director

0118 and 2109 SASB North, (919) 962-3782

The Learning Center (http://learningcenter.unc.edu) helps students optimize their learning strategies to meet all their academic goals at Carolina. To make an appointment with an academic coach or check out this year’s event calendar, visit the Learning Center’s website (http://learningcenter.unc.edu/). The Learning Center regularly offers an array of programs and services popular with undergraduate students, including:

• Workshops on topics such as metacognitive learning strategies, reading speed and comprehension, time management, and more.
• Handouts and videos (http://learningcenter.unc.edu/tips-and-tools/) offering tips and tools to make students’ academic lives easier.
• Study groups and boot camps providing opportunities to gather with other students to maximize study time and strategies.
• Test prep resources for GRE, GMAT, MCAT, and LSAT in partnership with The Princeton Review, at discounts of 20 percent.
• ADHD/LD support. Individual appointments and coaching groups are available.

The Writing Center
Kim Abels, Ph.D., Director

0127 SASB North; 221 Greenlaw Hall; (919) 962-7710

The Writing Center (http://writingcenter.unc.edu/) helps students become stronger, more flexible writers. To make an appointment with a writing coach or to submit your draft online, visit the Writing Center’s website (https://writingcenter.unc.edu/). The Writing Center is a free service for students, offering:

• One-on-one appointments (https://writingcenter.unc.edu/about/writing-coaching/) with a writing coach. Coaching appointments are 45-minute conversations with undergraduate and graduate students who are specially trained to support students’ development as writers.
• Online coaching (https://wc-online.unc.edu/ota/app/) services. Students can submit drafts online, specify their concerns, and request targeted feedback.
• Feedback on any writing project at any stage of the writing process. Students can work with a coach on everything from application essays to zoology lab reports. They can come in with nothing but ideas, with an outline, or with a draft. Coaches meet students where they are and help them move forward in the process.
• Handouts and videos (https://writingcenter.unc.edu/tips-and-tools/) on the writing process, citation and sentence-level concerns, writing-specific assignments, and writing in specific disciplines.
• Write Night events designed to help students make substantial progress on their drafts at key points each semester.
• English language resources (https://writingcenter.unc.edu/esl/) and language specialists who support the academic and social communication of Carolina’s international students.
• Volunteer opportunities! With our Speaking Group (https://writingcenter.unc.edu/esl/speaking-groups/) and U.S. English Pronunciation (https://writingcenter.unc.edu/esl/esl-mini-courses/) class, Carolina students can build relationships and gain valuable exposure to global cultures.
• Job opportunities (https://writingcenter.unc.edu/about/english-402/)! Undergraduate students can apply to work as writing coaches after taking ENGL 402 in the spring semester.

The Peer Mentoring Programs

peermintoring.web.unc.edu (https://peermintoring.web.unc.edu/)

0118 SASB North; CB#3106

(919) 962-2185

Tierra Williams, M.Ed., Program Coordinator
Peer Mentoring assists in the academic, social, and personal developments and adjustment of racial/ethnic minority students, students from low-income backgrounds, and transfer students in their first year at UNC. Incoming students can request peer mentors who are academically successful and socially involved members of the Carolina Community. The Minority Advisory Program (MAP) consists of students with cumulative grade point averages of 2.5 or higher who volunteer to serve as peer mentors mostly to minority first-year undergraduates. These peer mentors provide academic counseling, bridge communication between CFSS and first-year students, and assist them with their transition from high school to university life. CFSS also oversees the peer mentoring program for Carolina Covenant Scholars and community college students participating in the Carolina Student Transfer Excellence Program (C-STEP). As with MAP, Carolina Covenant Scholars and C-STEP volunteers serve as peer mentors to first-year Carolina Covenant Scholars and C-STEP participants to assist them with their academic and social transition to Carolina.

Summer Bridge

Marcus Collins, Ed.D, Director

Victoria Chavis, M.S.W., Program Coordinator

0118 SASB North, CB# 3106, (919) 843-8697

Summer Bridge is a six-week transition program that helps incoming first-year students adjust to Carolina by providing academic enrichment, community building, and co-curricular and experiential learning activities. The program is designed to ease participants’ personal and academic transition from high school to the University. Students enroll in two academic courses, which usually represent a combination of English composition and quantitative skills. They also participate in activities designed to supplement their summer experience by engaging in high-impact learning experiences often facilitated by units such as the UNC Learning and Writing Centers, University Career Services, and Student Life and Leadership. Additionally, cultural and recreational activities are significant components of the program, as students are introduced to the University and the array of opportunities and resources available. Any student who has been admitted to UNC—Chapel Hill and is a North Carolina resident is eligible to apply.

First-Generation College Students

Euna Victoria Chavis, M.S.W., Program Coordinator

2203 SASB North, (919) 843-3688

Nearly 20% of all undergraduate at UNC—Chapel Hill are the first in their family to attend college. At Carolina, we proudly call our first-generation college students Carolina Firsts. There are several programs and opportunities designed specifically to engage, connect and celebrate Carolina Firsts.

Transfer Students

Luke Fayard, M.A., Program Coordinator, Transfer Student Support

2203 SASB North; (919) 966-5245

fayardl@email.unc.edu

The University offers distinct programs and opportunities designed specifically for transfer students to acclimate to the Carolina community. The Transfer Student Coordinator serves as one of several contacts for transfer students at UNC and provides support to encourage the success, persistence and graduation of transfer students primarily once they enroll at the university.

Library System

- Library hours (http://library.unc.edu/hours/)
- Ask a question (http://library.unc.edu/ask/)

The campus libraries are your home for world-class collections, study spaces for every preference, and research expertise across a wide range of subject areas.

Everyone is welcome in all campus libraries, including the House Undergraduate Library, Davis Library, the Wilson Special Collections Library, the Health Sciences Library, and subject-specific branch libraries. Your OneCard is your library card.

Reserve a study room (https://library.unc.edu/places/study/?feature=reservable) to collaborate on group projects. Take advantage of New York Times digital subscriptions, best-selling e-books and audiobooks, and popular streaming movies, all brought to you by the Librar (https://library.unc.edu/services/leisure/). Bring your visions to life in the Kenan Science Library's makerspace (https://library.unc.edu/science/makerspace/) with 3D scanning and printing. And visit the Media and Design Center (https://library.unc.edu/house/mdc/resources/) to take your multimedia projects from concept to creation, with the Library’s production equipment, technology, digital assets, and staff expertise.

Whatever your academic focus, personal passions, and personality, the Library is here to support your success. Sign up for the Library’s monthly student newsletter (https://library.unc.edu/social/student-newsletter/) to stay connected.

Math Help Center

Miranda Thomas, Ph.D., Director

The Math Help Center (https://math.unc.edu/undergraduate/resources/), located in 237 Phillips Hall, provides additional instructional support for students enrolled in MATH 110 through MATH 233. The center is staffed by both graduate and undergraduate tutors who work with students in small groups or individually. The center’s main purposes are to provide assistance and to increase the success rate for students in specific math courses.

Pre-Graduate School Advising

The Pre-Graduate Education Advising Program (https://careers.unc.edu/students/pre-professional-pre-graduate-advising/pre-graduate/), under University Career Services in Hanes Hall (second floor), is a resource offered to students interested in pursuing graduate studies. The program advises undergraduate students considering a graduate degree in various disciplines (sciences, arts and humanities, social sciences, and professional arenas). These advisors can help clarify the differences between a doctorate and a master’s degree and the opportunities a terminal degree may offer. The program is primarily responsible for helping students considering graduate school understand what their next steps are in researching and applying to graduate programs, so that they can move forward independently and effectively. The advisors are happy to help students identify the departmental or curricular advisors, the director of undergraduate studies for their major, and other faculty members students should contact during their process.
Health Professions Advising
UNC–Chapel Hill has no formal pre-health curriculum or major. Instead, students should choose one of the four-year B.A. or B.S. degree programs and incorporate appropriate prerequisite courses in their planning. Health professional schools encourage students to major in what they are interested in studying; no specific majors are recommended. Students are strongly encouraged to visit the Health Profession Advising Office (Ground Floor, Steele Building) soon after entering the University to learn the latest course requirements and other preparations necessary to become an outstanding candidate for their health career of choice. The office gives advice about many professions, including allopathic medicine, osteopathic medicine, podiatric medicine, dentistry, nursing, pharmacy, physical therapy, physician assistant, veterinary medicine, optometry, chiropractic, and other allied health professions. Health Professions Advising information, office hours, and information about joining the Health Professions Advising listserv may be found on the office’s HPA website (https://hpa.unc.edu/).

Pre-law Advising
UNC–Chapel Hill has no formal pre-law curriculum or major. Instead, students should follow one of the four-year B.A. or B.S. degree programs. Most law schools do not require, or even recommend, that students major in any particular field; instead, most law schools prefer applicants who have pursued a course of study that gives a foundation for undertaking legal studies, with an emphasis on reading, writing, speaking, and analytical and critical thinking. However, a student wishing to practice patent law will need a degree in one of the sciences.

Pre-law students should emphasize academics. The campus Learning Center offers programs designed to help enhance reading skills. Students are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity. Students also are encouraged to schedule an appointment Handshake (https://careers.unc.edu/students/resources/schedule-appointment/) with Serena Hodge in Hanes Hall (second floor). They also may wish to visit the Pre-Law Advising website (http://prelaw.unc.edu/), where they can gain helpful information and join the prelaw listserv to receive important announcements.

Research Institutes and Centers
The intellectual life of the University and the research activities of undergraduates, graduate students and faculty alike receive valuable encouragement and support from a variety of institutes and centers. These institutes do not operate as instructional agencies within the University; rather, they serve to obtain financial and organizational assistance for the scholars who constitute their membership.

Most research centers and institutes can be found on the UNC Research website (http://research.unc.edu/units/a-z/).

Scholarly Journals
The University has published scholarly journals since 1884, when the Journal of the Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society first appeared.

The following list contains some of the publications currently produced by the University’s graduate and professional programs.

The University of North Carolina Press
The University of North Carolina Press (https://uncpress.org/) is the primary publishing arm of the University in the scholarly field. In addition to its publication of the journals of research, it carries on a book publishing program of about 80 new titles a year. Electronic publications also are available. Although these books are the work of scholars from all parts of the world, the presence in the University of a professionally staffed book publishing organization, with facilities for the international distribution of works of scholarship, is a stimulus to research and writing by members of the University community. The Press’ program is an important contribution to the development of that aspect of the University’s service which has to do with the advancement of learning.
