Courses in the department are offered for the general student and for those who wish to receive the bachelor of arts with a major in linguistics. Courses in linguistics are intended to open up systematic perspectives on the nature of human language by means of detailed studies of language structure, language change and language acquisition, the sound system of language, and the syntactic/semantic system of language.

Department Programs

1 LING 101 is a prerequisite for these courses.
2 In order to fashion a coherent program of study that complements the student's major, the department encourages students to select these two courses in consultation with the department's director of undergraduate studies.
3 No more than three combined hours of LING 395, LING 493, and LING 495 can be counted toward the minor.
