The William and Ida Friday Center for Continuing Education is the University's arm for extending credit and non-credit instruction to North Carolinians who wish to further their education in non-traditional ways.

Services provided by the Friday Center include:

- Advising and student services for non-degree undergraduate and graduate students
- Advising and student services for part-time degree-seeking undergraduates
- Advising and student services for dual-enrolled high school students

Courses and programs (for-credit) offered by the Friday Center include:

- Carolina Courses Online, a portfolio of undergraduate, semester-based courses that are offered online in the fall, spring, and summer semesters. Degree-seeking and non-degree students can enroll in Carolina Courses Online.
- Self-Paced Online, a portfolio of undergraduate, self-paced courses that are offered online. Self-paced courses are for non-degree students only. Enrollment is approved on a rolling basis.
- Pre-Health Certificate Program, which helps students who have earned an undergraduate degree prepare for advanced study in the health professions.
- UNC Core, a program for active duty service members, veterans, and National Guard and Reserve members. Students can complete general education college courses from a distance on a flexible schedule.
- The Correctional Education Program, a partnership with the North Carolina Department of Public Safety, which enables qualified inmates in the North Carolina prison system to take correspondence and on-site courses for credit.

Carolina Courses Online (CCO)

The following courses are offered through the Carolina Courses Online (CCO) program. Not all courses are offered each semester. Check the course listings on the Friday Center Web site (<http://fridaycenter.unc.edu/creditprograms/carolinacoursesonline/courses>) for each semester's offerings.
